One hot July day, a strange craft sailed down the river toward the Isle of Imps. Her bed-sheet sails billowed in the stiff breeze. And her flag, the skull and crossbones emblem of the dreaded pirates, fluttered aloft to strike terror in the stoutest hearts.

But, at that moment, it was her own crew of rascally pirates whose hearts were filled with terror. For, bearing down upon them from the rear, chugged a large coal barge. The impatient blowing of its warning whistle sent chills up and down their spines. They leaped to action.

"Man the oars!" shouted Captain Bugs Bunny.

"Aye, aye, S-Sir!" answered First Mate Porky Pig, grabbing an oar.

The Second Mate, Fatty McPork, said nothing. He was too busy trying to get the other oar adjusted in the oar lock. It was no easy job because his hands shook so hard.

"H-Hurry up!" commanded the First Mate impatiently.

"I yam!" mumbled McPork, as he finally got the oar in place.

"Heave ho!" yelled the oarsmen, slapping their oars down into the water with an awful splash. The ship jerked forward, upsetting Captain Bunny who was trimming the sails. And, a second later, both the Captain and the sails hit the deck.

The sails settled down and completely covered the crew. The latter, yelling, clawing, and kicking, tried to fight their way out, but only succeeded in getting themselves more entangled. Their struggles rocked the tiny ship perilously from side to side. It floundered helplessly around in the water while the coal barge chugged closer and closer.

Then, just as the coal barge was almost upon them, they managed to rip the sail off and push it overboard. Grabbing the oars, the First and Second Mates rowed furiously while Captain Bunny hung over the prow and, using his hands as oars, helped them.

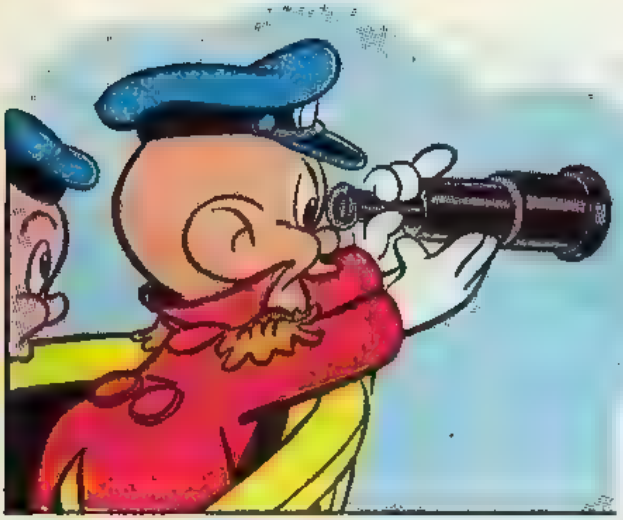
Finally, the little pirate ship nosed safely into the bank, just as the coal barge, with a last whistling salute, chugged past them full steam ahead.

Captain Bunny and First Mate Porky were mopping their brows and sighing with relief when, suddenly, Second Mate McPork screamed, "Sail ho!" and excitedly pointed down river.

Leaping to their feet and shading their eyes with their hands, the Captain and First Mate looked in the direction toward which McPork was pointing.

"Sufferin' catfish!" exclaimed Captain Bunny. "It's the H.M.S. Petunia! She WOULD heave into sight while we're stuck here till this blasted coal barge goes by!"

The First Mate scowled fiercely. "W-Wouldn't that jar your c-compass!" he declared angrily. "N-Now she'll get away f-from us!"



"An' we'll lose her rich cargo!" moaned Second Mate McPork.

While the irate, disappointed Pirates sat in their ship waiting for the coal barge to pass, the H.M.S. Petunia glided swiftly up river toward the Isle of Imps.

"How stwange!" exclaimed her Captain, Elmer Fudd, scanning the horizon through his telescope. "I can't see those wascally piwats anyplace! Guess that coal barge coming down the other side of the wiver fwightened them away!"

"Goody! Goody!" grinned the little Quartermaster, Cicero Pig. "Now WE can eat the CARGO all by ourselves!"

"Quite wight, Cicewo!" answered the Captain, also grinning.

But Captain Fudd and Quartermaster Cicero were doomed to disappointment. For, at that moment, Petunia Pig, the ship's cook, glancing toward the coal barge, screamed, "Look! The Pirate Ship!"

And, sure enough, there was the Pirate Ship attached to the end of the coal barge, snitching a tow down river. As Captain Fudd and his crew stared in astonishment, the Pirate Captain cut his ship loose from the coal barge and headed toward the H.M.S. Petunia.

"Man the guns!" shouted Captain Fudd. "Here they come!"

The big battle was on. Bang! Bang! Bang! sounded the wooden artillery of both crews as they opened fire. And, cork bullets, falling short of their targets, bobbed up and down on the water between the two ships.

"Hurry! Hurry!" screamed the cook of the H.M.S. Petunia, reloading her popgun. "They're gaining on us!"

"I'm huwwying!" answered Captain Fudd, rowing furiously to reach the safety of the island.

But, just as the H.M.S. Petunia nosed up to the jutting shoreline of the Isle of Imps, the Pirate Ship shot forward and came alongside her. With shouts of triumph, the fierce Pirates, led by Captain Bunny, swarmed over the side of the H.M.S. Petunia and captured her crew.

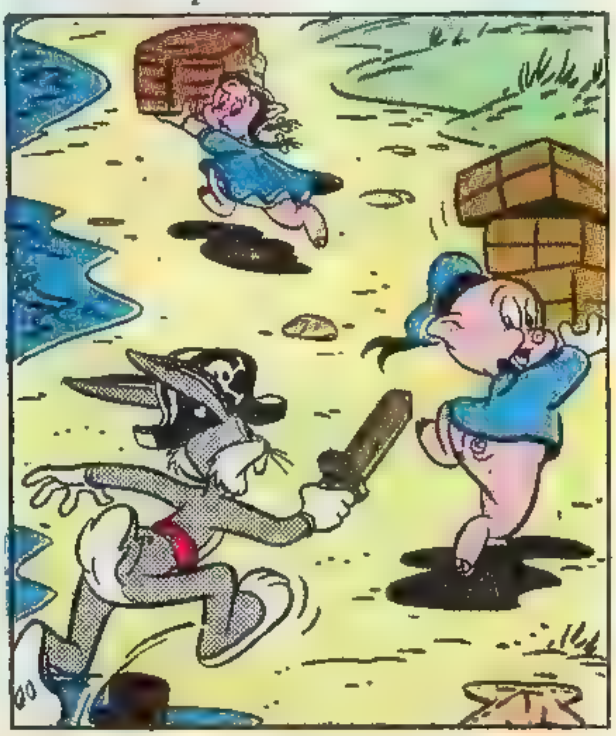
"Unload the cargo!" shouted Captain Bunny, brandishing his wooden cutlass and taking command of both crews.

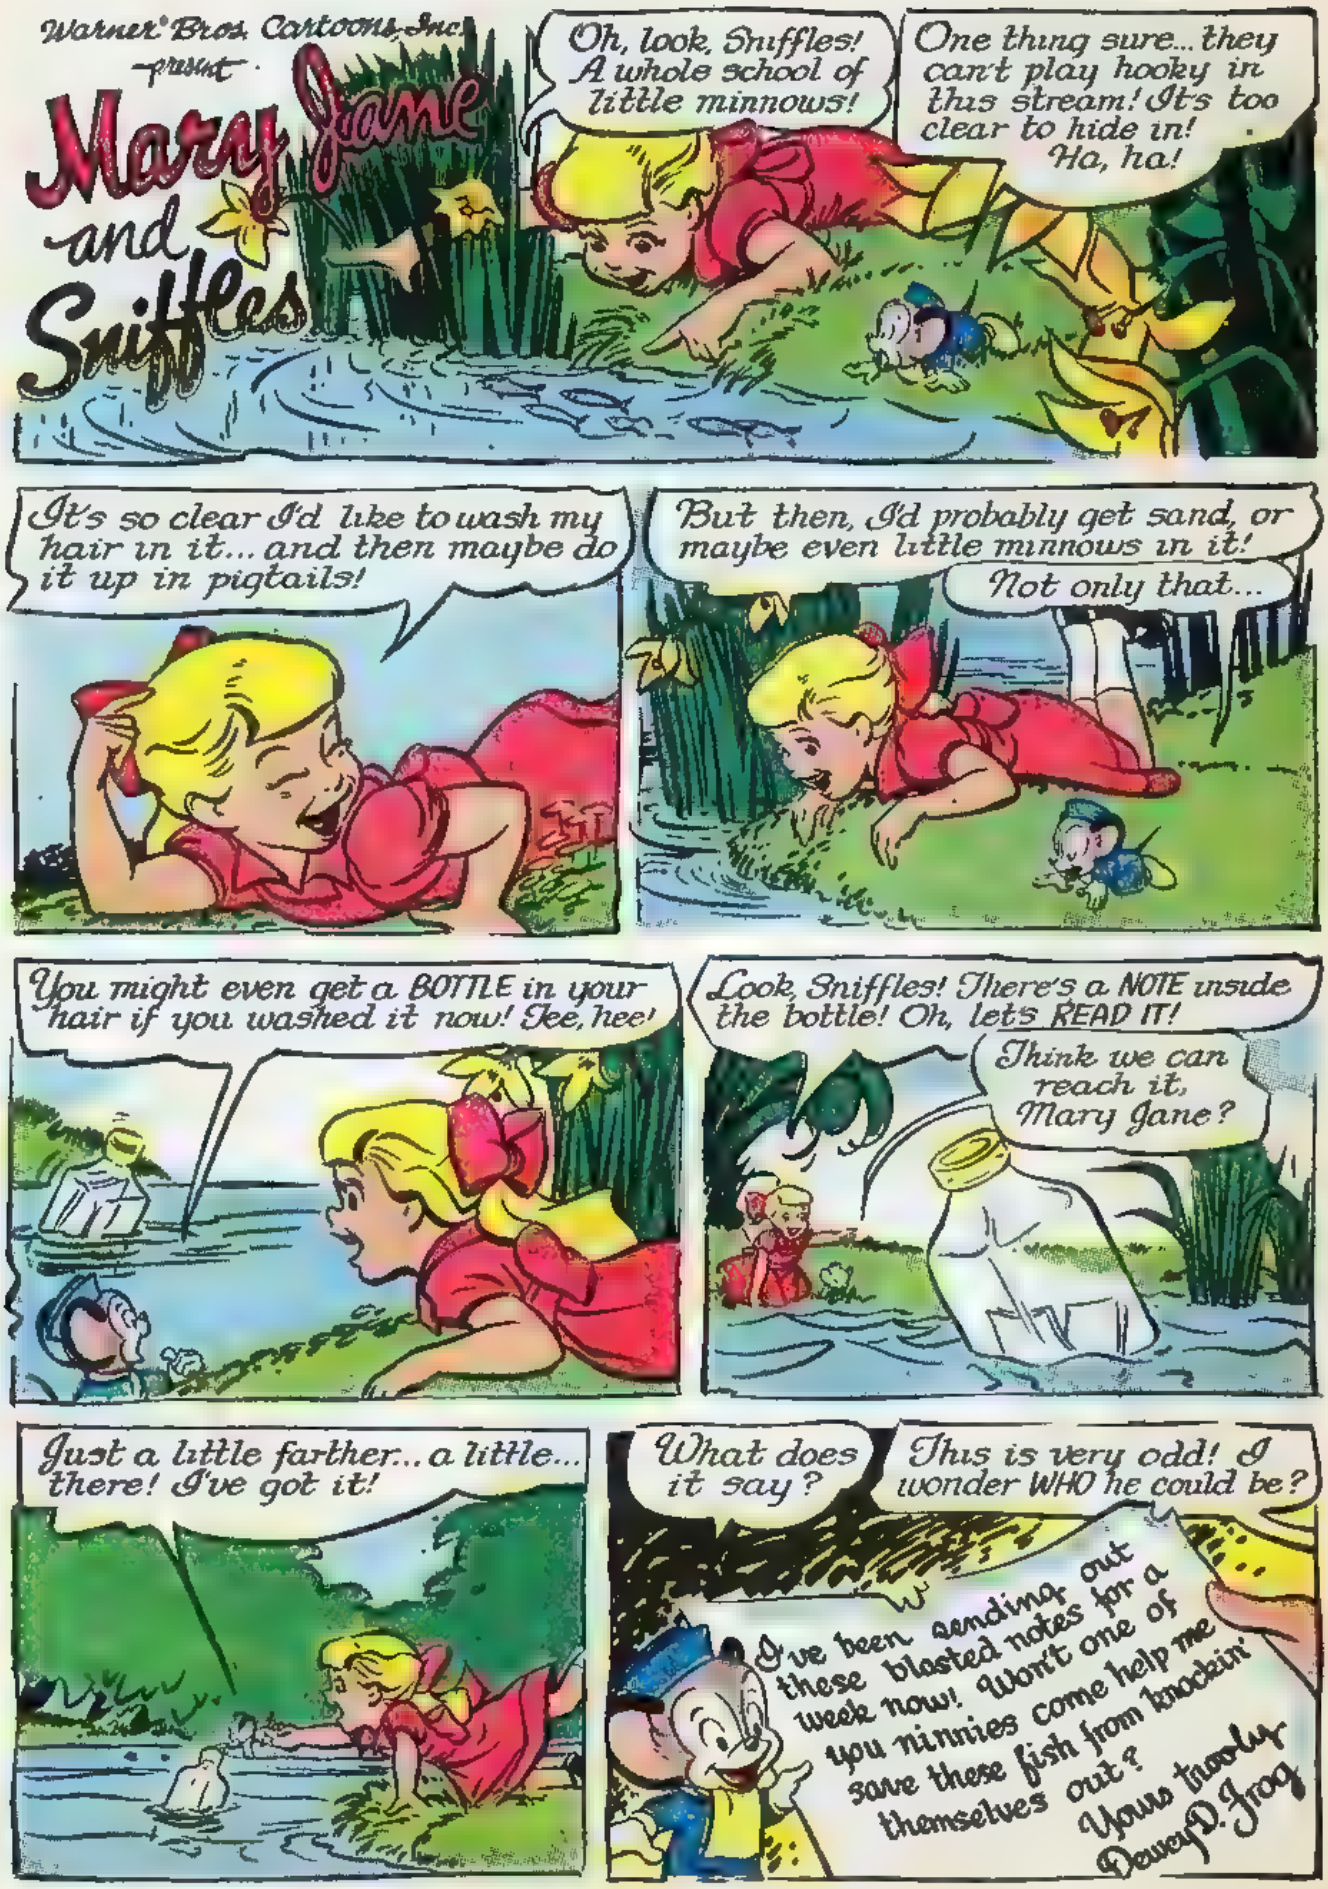
The two ships were pulled up onto the shore and the strange cargo, consisting of a large basket and three shoe boxes, was carried up to a green shady spot under a tree.

Petunia, the captive cook, spread a red and white checked cloth on the ground and unloaded the cargo for the inspection of the Pirates.

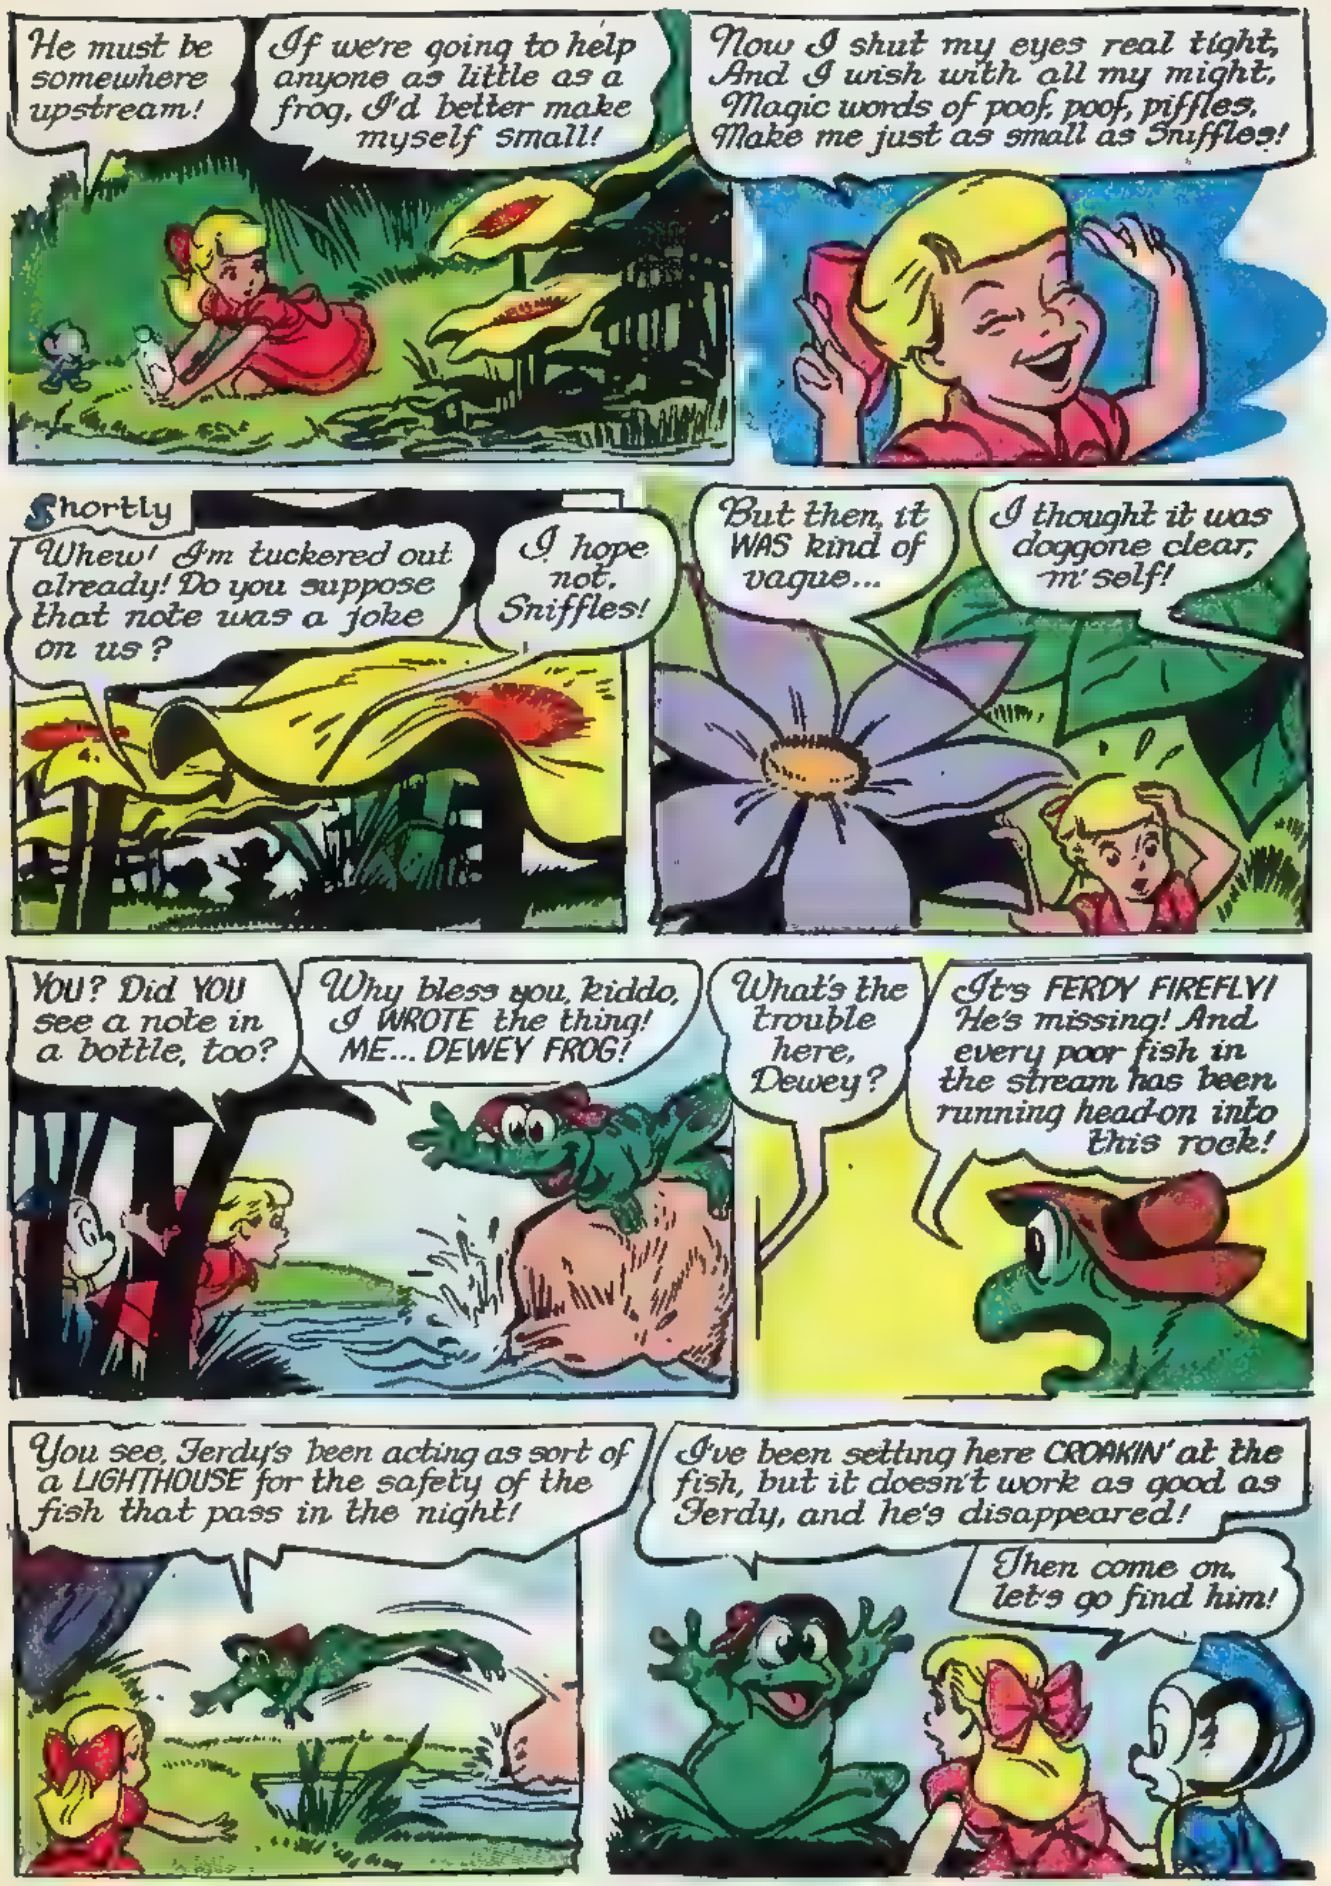
"Yum! Yum!" exclaimed Captain Bunny. "This is the richest haul we've ever made! Fall to, Mates! Enjoy yourselves!"

So, with shouts of glee, both the fierce Pirates and the crew of the H.M.S. Petunia proceeded to divide and devour the cargo of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, olives, cake, and soda pop. And, they all agreed that this was lots more fun than just an ORDINARY picnic!





Warner Bros. Cartoons, Inc. presents
Mary Jane and Sniffles
Oh, look, Sniffles! A whole school of little minnows!
One thing sure... they can't play hooky in this stream! It's too clear to hide in! Ha, ha!
It's so clear I'd like to wash my hair in it... and then maybe do it up in pigtails!
But then, I'd probably get sand, or maybe even little minnows in it!
Not only that...
You might even get a BOTTLE in your hair if you washed it now! Tee, hee!
Look, Sniffles! There's a NOTE inside the bottle! Oh, let's READ IT!
Think we can reach it, Mary Jane?
Just a little farther... a little... there! I've got it!
What does it say?
This is very odd! I wonder WHO he could be?
I've been sending out these blasted notes for a week now! Won't one of you ninnies come help me save these fish from knockin' themselves out?
Yours truly
Dewey D. Frog



He must be somewhere upstream!
If we're going to help anyone as little as a frog, I'd better make myself small!
Now I shut my eyes real tight, And I wish with all my might, Magic words of poof, poof, piffles, Make me just as small as Sniffles!
Shortly
Whew! I'm tuckered out already! Do you suppose that note was a joke on us?
I hope not, Sniffles!
But then, it WAS kind of vague...
I thought it was doggone clear, m' self!
YOU? Did YOU see a note in a bottle, too?
Why bless you, kiddo, I WROTE the thing! ME... DEWEY FROG!
What's the trouble here, Dewey?
It's FERDY FIREFLY! He's missing! And every poor fish in the stream has been running head-on into this rock!
You see, Ferdy's been acting as sort of a LIGHTHOUSE for the safety of the fish that pass in the night!
I've been setting here CROAKIN' at the fish, but it doesn't work as good as Ferdy, and he's disappeared!
Then come on, let's go find him!

Nearby... Who woulda thought such a thing would happen? Just as I was gettin' to be a whing-ding of a lighthouse keeper, my light goes out!
Ding bust it! I can't even get a GLOW on! I guess I'm not good for anything now!
Just then, an old crow spots Ferdy!
Hmm... what a tasty-looking bug!
Heh, heh! There's nothing I like better than a nice firefly snack!
Look, Dewey! Is that Ferdy Firefly?... That little fellow over there?
Yep! That's him, all right! But LOOK!
That old crow is out to GET HIM!
WATCH OUT, FERDY!
Gollies! That was close! He almost GOT you, Ferdy!
Aw, NOBODY would want ME! I'm a has-been!
Bah! Those other jokers got in my way! But my time will come, if I watch for my opportunity! Hee, hee!

What's got into you, Ferdy? You can't run off and hide your light under a bushel!
What light? I don't have any light, I tell you! I'm just a good-for-nothing now!
At least you should be careful, Ferdy! There's a crow circling up there with a hungry look in his eye!
Who cares? HE won't catch me! NOBODY'LL catch me! I'm goin' someplace where I'm not known! I'll start over again as another kind of bug!
Stop him! He'll get gobbled!
Here I come, li'l firefly! Keep runnin'! Soon you'll be as snug as a bug in a crow!
Look! Up there, Mary Jane! It's the CROW!
QUICK, Mary Jane! We've got to SCARE that crow away! I'll jump on Dewey's shoulders, and you jump on mine, and...
BOOOOOOO!
EEK!
HELP! Lemme out of here! A scarecrow, disguised as a little girl, a mouse, and a frog! HELP!
ZIP!
Thank you, my friends, but my light is STILL out, so I'll be leavin'!
Wait, Ferdy! I've got an idea!

Listen, Dewey! You go and bst... bsst.. ss...
Say-y-y! It just might work, at that!
Come on, Jerdy Firefly! We've got a suprise for you!
They're trying to cheer me up! Might as well humor 'em!
Oh, Eustace! Eustace Eel! Come on up!
This is the silliest thing I ever heard of! What good can HE do?
Sorry for not answering sooner! I ran into that rock last night, and...
You go over and sit on Eustace's tail, Jerdy!
Now, Eustace, turn on your electric eel electricity!
Glad to!
Hooray! Looky here! MY LIGHT IS LIGHTIN' UP AGAIN!
Sure, Jerdy! All you needed was to charge up your battery! You've been working too hard!
later
Thanks again, kiddies! And don't forget... it's always darkest before I turn my light on! Hee, hee!
So long, Jerdy!
We won't forget! 'Bye, Jerdy!
